

CONFERENCE AND COMMUNITY PRESENTATIONS

Wendy has unique experience in working with individuals, organisations and whole communities impacted by suicide.

In helping people struggling to deal with their loss, Wendy recognised and repeatedly saw demonstrated the will of the community to come together to provide support in a time of need.

Too often, lack of knowledge of what to say or what to do has hindered people from offering help.

Wendy has developed training and response programs to help any adult develop the confidence and skills to check in with someone who might be struggling or in crisis, and to have the knowledge of how to link them to appropriate help.

Wendy is an advocate of mental health as a positive construct, more than just the absence of illness, and is a sought after speaker about mental health and mental illness, suicide prevention, and crisis support.

Wendy is an engaging keynote speaker and presenter and has presented Mental Health, Suicide Prevention, and Suicide Bereavement information and training in various communities around Australia. She has spoken and presented at multiple national and international conferences and forums.

Award-winning at both State and National level, she has repeatedly demonstrated how harnessing the power of community, any community, can help out in a time of need or crisis.

Now working with individuals, organisations, and whole communities to help them recognise and build on their existing assets to provide support to those who might be at risk of developing mental health problems or in crisis, Wendy can tailor a presentation to suit the audience and the occasion.
